

World Architecture and Lifestyle

About the course

During the course we will examine important buildings and settlements from around the world and relate the architecture to local lifestyle. We will look at slides on PowerPoint, watch DVDs, read short articles and have discussions together. The lessons will be in English, so students who are interested in the course should have a good level of spoken English. The course is worth 2 CREDITS, but ONLY APPLY IF YOU ARE REALLY INTERESTED.

Syllabus

Cave houses in Cappadocia / Machu Picchu / Temples of India / Alcatraz / The Dagon tribe / Life in an English castle / Scottish castles & their invisible inhabitants / Feng Shui and Chinese house design / The Minoan palaces of Crete

If you want to take the course you must come and see me for a short interview before the start of the semester!!

Richard Mann